

Great News:
SUMMER IS HERE!

BUT...

you have no job

OR

You hate the one you now have

Yes, it is summer!
You may think

The sun is warm,

The Aegean sea calls me for a brief swim,

The cicadas are singing, so...

it is ok to stop looking for a job, since nobody is hiring and I really need a holiday...

But...

“The ants are still working and preparing”

Everyone has a reason why you still have not got a job... What's yours THEN?

Shall I not get a holiday then?

- Too many candidates view “the summer” as a time to take off and relax.

That does not mean that :

- you do not deserve a break
or
- you should not spend more time with the family and your beloved ones!
or
- you should not enjoy the Greek sun and sea!

BUT...

By taking 'time' off, you are giving other candidates the opportunity to steal that job away from you!

Why?

- Getting hired is a fierce competition.
- There is only one winner for one role!
- The winner will likely be the candidate, who is perceived to be the best one for the employer.
- There is no prize for a 2nd place.

You Need to BE the BEST you CAN be:

- To stand out from the crowd.
- To stay ahead of the 'competition'.
- To be the chosen one.
- To be 1st on the line for you to be picked up because...you can be the best!

You probably can not do this on your own

- Every major athlete in the world has a whole team behind them which supports.
- Everybody can use a little help.
- Give yourself the advantage now!
- Be seen - Be heard - Be active

WHERE?

Help is only an email away

- Ron Mayne - Your New Tomorrow
 - www.yournewtomorrow.eu

Email: rmayne@yournewtomorrow.eu

- Barbara Asimakopoulou- Rebounders

<http://reboundersatworklife.wordpress.com/>

Email: ba@hre.gr